Welcome
My Dear Brothers and Sisters in Christ,

Welcome! As we gather today at God’s table, we are called to look at how we are living our lives. In Mark’s Gospel, we are reminded that with our Lord Jesus Christ nothing can come in from the outside to corrupt all He has given us that is good and true. It is from our own human weaknesses inside that impure thoughts and deeds emerge. I invite you to draw close to our Lord today. Ask him to renew your life from within with the Blessing of pure and loving heart that reflects our Lord’s Truth.

¡Entrar del exterior para corromper todo lo que él nos ha dado, que es bueno y verdadero. Es de nuestras propias debilidades humanas de donde surgen y salen los pensamientos y hechos contaminados. Invito a todos a pedirle al Señor Jesús que renueve su vida desde dentro, para que reciban la bendición de un corazón puro, cariñoso y que refleje la verdad de nuestro Señor Jesucristo.

May God Bless you all,
Fr. Juan Manuel

INSIGHTS with Fr. Charlie

Jesus, friend of Mothers

After Jesus fed the multitudes, healed the sick, and restored the blind and paralyzed, word began to travel fast whenever the great Teacher and Healer arrived in a new place. Having heard about Jesus’ powers, mothers would often come with their children to see Him, knowing his touch would bring a Blessing. Jesus responded to their faith, welcoming their children and giving them the Blessings they came to receive.

Recently at the end of mass, as a parish community we stood together to bless our young people returning to college and university. Each blessing reminded me of the mother’s request I received last year. It is the inspiration for this practice becoming a tradition at different times during the school year, when our parish youth return to school after breaks and holidays.

I remember when the request came in. Margaret Haight contacted me to ask if I would bless her son before he left home to go off to university for the first time. There was something in her request that gave her question a special significance. It seemed to carry the same plea of mothers in Jesus’ time — the longing for our Lord to wrap her child in His Blessing — to stay with him, to guide and protect him.

The inspired words of the prophet Isaiah, affirm the high regard attributed to a mother’s love and it reminds us that the same level of love and care is extended to all of us

“As a mother comforts her child, so I will comfort you.”

Peace,
Fr. Charlie
